DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the Election filed July 25, 2007 for the above identified patent application.

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on July 25, 2007. Note, applicant indicated claim 7 as reading of the elected embodiment, however claim 7 is hereby withdrawn by the examiner as not reading on the elected species. For example, the elected species does not teach the backlash between the worm and auxiliary worm wheel being smaller than the backlash between the worm and the torque transmitting worm wheel.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3682

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Price (UK 1 546 785).

Price teaches in Figure 2 a worm gear mechanism comprising: a driving worm (21); a torque-transmitting worm wheel (10) meshing with said worm for transmitting torque from said worm to a load side; an auxiliary worm wheel (11) meshing with said worm and having a pitch diameter greater than a pitch diameter of said torque-transmitting worm wheel; and a resilient member (15) for resiliently urging said auxiliary worm wheel relative to said torque-transmitting worm wheel, wherein, at positions where said torque-transmitting worm wheel and said auxiliary worm wheel mesh with said worm, a tooth of said worm is held at opposite surfaces thereof between teeth of said torque-transmitting worm wheel and said auxiliary worm wheel, and wherein said resilient member resiliently urges said auxiliary worm wheel in such a direction as to keep the tooth of said worm held between the teeth.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3682

6. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cheng et al. (USP 6,354,395) in view of Price (UK 1 546 785).

Cheng et al. discloses an electric power steering device having a motor (34) driving a worm (56), a torque transmitting worm gear (64) meshing with the worm, an auxiliary worm wheel (84) meshing with said worm, wherein the gear arrangement reduces backlash between the meshing gears. Cheng et al. does not teach the claimed gear configuration for reducing backlash between the gears, but the claimed gear arrangement for reducing backlash was known in the art. For example, the above described gear arrangement of Price teaches a torque-transmitting worm wheel (10) meshing with a worm for transmitting torque from said worm to a load side; an auxiliary worm wheel (11) meshing with said worm and having a pitch diameter greater than a pitch diameter of said torque-transmitting worm wheel; and a resilient member (15) for resiliently urging said auxiliary worm wheel relative to said torque-transmitting worm wheel. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to replace the torque-transmitting worm wheel and the auxiliary worm wheel of Cheng et al. with the gear arrangement of Price, motivation being to provide a gear arrangement capable of continuously adjusting gear backlash during operation of the device.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
